| Title:         | Japanese designer of women's clothing seeks distributors and retailers in the EU   |
| POD Reference: | BOJP20180412001  |
| Summary:       | A Japanese designer/manufacturer of women's outfits is looking for distributors and retailers in France, Germany, Italy, United Kingdom and Netherlands. The company produces clothing which is made-in-Japan only and is based on one of the major trends of Japanese pop culture. Based on positive feedback and high number of non-Japanese visitors in their shops, they would like to find potential partners under commercial agency or distribution services agreements and expand into Europe.  |
| Description:   | The company is specialized in designing women's girly outfits using their original printed textiles based on a "dreams and princesses" concept. Their outfits are less flamboyant than the Japanese Lolita style, yet very distinctive. Currently, they retail only to customers in Japan through their shops in Tokyo and an online shop, but they would like to find potential partners in Europe, in particular in France, Germany, Italy, the UK and the Netherlands under distribution services and commercial agency agreements. The company would like to enter the European market because for years now, they have witnessed growing overseas market potential indicated by positive feedback from foreign customers in their retail shops in Tokyo. In fact, the rate of non-Japanese visitors to their brand retail shops is more than 50%. The company produces made-in-Japan clothes through a high quality local cycle. Textile design is made in Tokyo while the art-crafting of dye printing textile is done in Kyoto. The finishing up with the craftsmanship of sewing takes place in the Tohoku area in the north of Japan. |
